W. G. Rand, of the Norway & Western Railroad, was in Norway, this week.
He was accompanied by the superintendent of a crew of Italians, who was looking over the route for the purpose of making a contract. The Company's old office on Deering street, has been sold to Stephen Libby and Mr. Rand says they will build a new office in the spring.
They are also to build three camps for the laborers along the road as soon as the snow is off, probably in March.

At the Annual meeting the old board of officers were re-elected.

Porter, and is now in the jail at South

NUMBER 3.

Union Meetings.

Services at Universalist Church.
The Gospel services began at the Universalist church, Tuesday evening. Rev.
H. H. Hoyt of Hiram, Rev. S. G. Davis of Norway, and Rev. J. H. Little of South Paris were the clergymen present.
Guy Irving Waltz of Boston was the singer. There was a large attendance and all enjoyed the services.

The services opened auspiciously.
The streets were very bad after the storm, but there were over one hundred present.

Wednesday evening there were about three hundred and twenty-five present.
The speaker and soloist are both very much liked.

Mr. Hoyt makes no effort to be eloquent, but speaks in a dignified, simple and direct manner, as one who is anxious for the salvation of souls. His only object seems to be to direct lost souls to the Cross that they may be saved and lead the simple life of the Master. His whole heart is in the work.

Mr. Waltz, the soloist, pleases all. His tones are pure, sweet and tender. The most noticeable thing about his singing is its naturalness, freedom and ease.
He makes no effort, yet every note is as clear as the song of the bird. He seems to sing because it is a joy to sing. He sings from the heart and the song goes to the heart. He is working up a fine chorus and before the meetings conclude there will be great power of song around the altar of the church.

We are glad to say there is already a good interest worked up in the meetings, and we feel that much good will be done in the village for the cause of God and righteousness. Come one, come all to the meetings.

These meetings will continue a week, through Wednesday of next week. All the singers in Norway and South Paris, are invited to join Mr. Waltz's chorus.
All the singers are asked to rally and make this chorus 200 strong. There was a chorus for the children, too.

There was a good sized chorus Wednesday evening, but not a tenth part of the singers in the two villages. All be there tonight and give Mr. Waltz a chorus that will be the best he has ever had.

For the Public Good.
Lights cost money we know, but can't the public have a little more light at the Norway postoffice? We don't want to be fussy, but without a single light turned on in the morning it is pretty dark and dismal trying to get round, and a good many of the working people have to take their letters when they go to their work before seven. A little later it will be light and we shall not need the lights. Then in the evening, (and it is dark now by 5 o'clock,) it is so dark with only two back lights turned on that it is hard to read an address at the front delivery window. We don't think for a moment that the ones who are running the affairs at the postoffice are to blame.
It is light in the room where they are working and they don't think how dark it is outside or how the people like to read the addresses on their letters, and papers so to be sure they get their own for even in the best regulated offices sometimes the letters get in the wrong box, and if they should it causes much trouble and loss to be able to hand the other man's letter back at once.

While we are speaking about it, there is another change that would be of benefit and convenience to the public, and the postoffice is one of the institutions that is for the public, if there could be a small "standing" desk furnished with ink, pens and blotters, at the place where it would be least in the way, write a line if they wished or put on stamps away from the general delivery window or the money order window, so as not to block up these windows when the necessary work is being done, it would save a good deal of time for the employees in the office and the public.

bath with his sister, Miriam Calcut at the not able to play the organ at the Congregational church.

The Ladies' Circle of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Grover on Thursday afternoon of this week.

Walter W. Dinsmore became violently ill and was taken to the asylum at Augusta, Monday morning.

THE NORWAY ADVERTISER
(OXFORD COUNTY, ME.)

JANUARY 19, 1906, NORWAY, MAINE.

Save Shade Trees by the Highways.

Wm. Bolton, landscape gardener of South Paris, finished the job, Monday, of clearing out the brush that obstructed the beautiful view of Lake Penessewawassee on the Norway Lake road and trimming up and leaving the shade trees from the log house to Norway Lake village. We have yet to see the person who has seen it, who does not say it is a big improvement. There was one practical man with eyes shut to the beauties of this world who did say that "Probably it would make the road colder." Even this man could not find any fault during the summer months.

With a little knowledge in forestry, a little forethought and scarcely no more labor or money, if every one would begin working towards leaving the shade trees along our highways and cutting out the unsightly bushes, when the over-sighters of the adjacent land or the road commissioners cut bushes, we might in twenty years have places of beauty to live in.

Every town in our county should vote at their next annual town meeting to instruct their road commissioners to save shade trees. These trees should be in some way so as to know they are being saved. Then at the next Maine legislature a law should be made for saving the shade trees throughout the state. New Hampshire has a very good law. They have the trees marked with a red tin tag with the letters "N. H." along the highways and there is a fine cutting these State trees.

Let every owner of land think of these things. Let every voter consider them.
Without let the money talk about it, and let all act up to their convictions in this matter. Be careful how you cut, a tree that will make in time a good shade tree along the highway, if it stands in the right position. A few cuts with an axe and a few minutes time will destroy a tree that would require a ten or twenty years' wait for another to grow in its place. There is no reason why we may not better our condition in this respect than we are in many others.

That we have not tried to beautify our highways for hundreds of years is no reason why we should not make a systematic beginning now.

Will You Contribute?
Here is a chance for you to give something towards the expense of clearing the bushes and trimming the trees on the lake road.

The work has been done, and the expense is $46.05. That it looks well and is an improvement no one denies. The places must be put up and maintained by the town. This the statute demands, but it did not the clearing of the bushes, for looks sake only.

It was suggested in this paper in an article written by Wm. C. Leavitt and endorsed by the editor.
Mr. Don C. Seitz, of the New York World, offered to contribute $10, "Upon that and the known generosity of Norway people, the editor of this paper has the work done and now is up to dividing the expense. Among those who are willing to contribute, each contribution and the amount will be acknowledged in this paper:

Don C. Seitz, New York.....$10.00 Wm. C. Leavitt, ".....2.00 O. M. Cummings, ".....1.00 Total for this week.....$13.00

Don't be afraid of sending in your contribution and should the funds exceed the present need the surplus will be expended in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stearns entertained the Professionals Saturday evening, at their home on Orchard street.

The "no school bill" rang Tuesday noon, for the first time this winter.
Tuesday will go down into history as a rainy day.

Lakeside Lodge, N. E. O. P., will have evening, Jan. 25th. Of course it will be a good time.

Miriam Herriock accompanied her father Judge A. E. Herriock, of Bethel, Tuesday. The Judge was holding probate court at the court house.

C. C. Russell, the Norway ice man, Frank Williams of Providence, R. I., a brother of Mrs. E. C. Walker, is visiting here and intends remaining here for a while. He is anxious to get work. Says he can do most anything.

Margaret and Jennie Baker entertained Misses Toothaker and Mayes of Portland over Sunday. The four ladies formed a friendship while on the excursion to Oregon the past summer.

Stephen W. Libby has bought the Norway and Western Railway office and he and his nephew, Charles H. Haskell, are intending to move in in a few days.
They are to fix it over into a dwelling house.

son of Granville Charles formerly of Norway, was in Norway this week. Mr.
Charles represents the firm of Atkinson, Mentzer & Grover, publishers and school furnishers.

The Novelty Wood Turning Company's factory caught fire from a chimney and burned from the inside through the roof. It was extinguished with but little damage and without calling out the fire company.

Leroy Keene, who has been working for the Norway & Paris Street Railway Co., has gone to Dexter, where he is working for the United Illuminating Co.
He has charge of the inside and outside wiring.

H. F. Webb Co. expect to open their acreage book shortly. Prices of lots same ceived their supply of lots for season 1906, but do not expect to require but two-thirds of last season.

OXFORD.

Dr. A. L. Hersey, of Oxford, one of the older physicians of Oxford County, and one of the most highly respected citizens of his town, died on Friday, Jan. 12, at the home of his daughter, Heloise E. Hersey, in Boston. Death was due to cerebral hemorrhage. His illness was only two days in duration. Dr. Hersey will be greatly missed. He was a courtly and polished gentleman as well as an eminently social and warm-hearted friend. His mind was so broad and cultured that nothing was alien to him that was of interest to humanity. A lifelong republican and keenly concerned for good government, no cause of church or state, of temperance or of social reform failed to receive the hospitality of his noble mind and heart.

The doctor was a native of Livermore, where he was born March 17, 1826. His early education was acquired in the schools of Livermore and at the Oxford Normal Institute in South Paris. Within twenty-four years of age he began the study of medicine. He graduated from the Maine Medical School in 1853, and at once located in Oxford, where he has ever since resided. His practice, until advancing years necessitated a lessening of his work, was large, and his patients reposed in him even more than the customary confidence accorded a physician. He was interested in educational matters, and was superintendent of schools in Oxford for many years.

He married Heloise E., daughter of Hon. Jairus S. Keith, of Oxford. Mrs. Hersey died only a few years since. They had one daughter, Heloise E. Hersey, now a prominent educator and author in Boston, at whose home he died. The funeral was held at Oxford, on Tuesday, at 1:30 p. m.

A brief service was held in Boston on Sunday afternoon, when he was participated in by Rev. Dr. Mann, the rector of Trinity church, and Rev. F. E. Emrich, D. D., of Boston, who was formerly the pastor of the deceased in Oxford. Dr. Emrich gave a short and beautiful address.

The service in Oxford was held in the Congregational church, where Dr. Hersey had been an interested attendant and choir leader for about fifty years. Notwithstanding the very inclement weather, there was a large attendance. Undertaker Miss Thayer of Norway will take charge. A quartette from Norway under the lead of Mr. Horne rendered appropriate music, and the pastor, Rev. Frederick Newport, paid a fitting tribute to the deceased, which was much appreciated.

The floral tributes were abundant and beautiful, and came from widely scattered friends in Massachusetts, Maine and elsewhere. A rich cluster of Easter lilies were given by the local Congregational church and society.

It was a matter of deep regret that his daughter, Miss Hersey, on account of illness could not be present.

The more immediate relatives present were a sister, Mrs. Henry A. Tabor of West's Mills; Mrs. Hersey's sister, Mrs. Charles A. Spring of Chicago; niece, Mrs. Clifford D. Laver of Boston; nephew, Herbert L. Hersey of Livermore Falls; cousin, Isabel Corning of Hartford, Conn.; and many others, beside Wm. J. Welch of Boston and Dr. Donovan of Lewiston.

The schools and stores were closed for the occasion and the mill operatives were given the opportunity to attend the service. The great kindness of the village people was very touching to the relatives and highly appreciated by them.

A Year Book and Guide.

You frequently hear mention of dead languages. Well, some facts are even dead, but these are not the kind that The Tribune Almanac deals in. By way of verifying that, just take a cursory glance over the issue for 1898, which is now on sale. It is not an Almanac in the dictionary sense of the word, but is really a ready reference and guide book, containing everything that such a compilation ought to have. It is a masterpiece of gathering and sifting and testing with the utmost care so as to secure absolute accuracy, or at least get as near it as honest, painstaking endeavor will bring one.

Herein will be found a perfect gold mine of information on topics of interest, not only to every American, but likewise to all who care to know about us, our laws, population, officials, and so forth. (And by the way, if you have any friends in Europe, send them a copy and see if they don't appreciate it.) There isn't anything missing in the way of records which the average man will want to know about. It doesn't matter what the subject—pension legislation, sporting statistics, facts about universities, colleges, patriotic societies, population, public officials, election returns, railroads, foreign commerce, immigration, foreign rulers, or New York State and city affairs.

In fact, it is really not an exaggeration to say that of a hundred and one things a sane person wants to know, at least ninety-nine will be found in The Tribune Almanac.

GILEAD.

A very enjoyable entertainment and supper was given Friday evening, Jan. 12, at the town hall, under the auspices of the Mountain Hills society. The entertainment was in charge of Mrs. F. B. Coffin, Edith O. Farwell and Mrs. G. B. Coffin, and consisted of two divisions of the musical and literary and the silhouettes proper. The children's recitations were good. The music, furnished by home talent, and made up in the form of solo, vocal duet, male quartet and choir, all with organ accompaniment, and with stirring pieces by the band interspersed, was a very attractive feature of the program.

To those who desired to prove themselves good Yankee by guessing the silhouettes of seventy-eight of our town's residents, men, women and children, varying in age between eighty-five and three years old, and which surrounded abundant opportunity for mental exercise; while two first class prizes and two of the second grade served to give a zest for the contest. Each person was furnished with tablet and pencil for notation and the prizes of the first class were awarded to him who read the most of the profiles and to the next best guesser, while the second class was for those who found themselves on record at the opposite extreme. The winners of the first prizes were Mrs. Nora Goodenough and Mrs. Iva Peabody and the second Alice Bisbee of Shelburne and Effie Coffin.

Following the silhouettes study a nice oyster and pastry supper was served by Earle Jordan, Charles Forbes, Fred Wright and Albert P. Farwell. A amount received from the entertainment, $11; net proceeds $8.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Major William F. Jordan.
Major Jordan died at Portland, Wednesday morning, Jan. 10, of a heart trouble, at the age of 75 years, 6 months.
He was chief clerk at the general department of the Portland post-office, and had been a clerk in the office since 1874.

Major Jordan was a comrade in arms with Major Whitmarsh, of Norway, and after the war they formed a business partnership and bought the Elm house in Norway, of Old Time, in 1880, which they conducted under the firm name of Whitmarsh & Jordan. In Jan. 1887 Major Whitmarsh purchased the interest of his former partner in the house.

Major Jordan was always the soul of neatness, and stories of his being unusually neat and particular are told in Norway to this day. It is said that when it was his duty to open his postoffice window at 7 o'clock in the morning he never waited ten seconds from one year's end to the next.

Mr. Jordan was a remarkably well preserved man, who prided himself on his youthful appearance and his strictly military bearing, and it will be with great surprise that people read the announcement that he was over 75 years of age. He was a small, active man, who always dressed in the same way with a frock coat closely buttoned and a felt hat of the type known as the Grant hat or slouch, and invariably walked with a smart soldierly gait. He looked scarcely older at the time of his death than a war time picture taken forty years ago.

His wife died just before the war, and he leaves but one daughter, Mrs.
Stephen E. Thompson, of Portland, with whom he made his home and where he died. He had suffered from heart trouble for the past ten years.

Norway, Thursday last week, to stay a while with her mother, Mrs. Charles Millet, whose health is poor.

The key rain Friday morning made travel on foot very uncertain. People "reeled to and fro like drunken men," and were truly at their wits end to keep on their feet.

Two ladies in turning round on Main street, Thursday last week, tipped over horse was caught near Andrew's stable with no damage but a broken bill.

Maine Hospital at Lewiston, last Thursday, to be treated for hernia and a tumor, and will probably submit to an op-

A new tapestry carpet has been put into the Old Fellows' hall the past week.
It took some 200 yards and was bought of W. T. Kelbourn & Co., of Portland.
It has been done by the Rebekahs, who have furnished most of the money. Mr.
Baker of Portland put the carpet in place.

A. W. Thomas' farm cutting grass to be shipped to South Lancaster, Mass., for the Thayer Bros. throughout the year and has charge of their lake property which is the finest in that region.

L. P. Bartlett, Jr. of Lynn was at the shoe factory Friday and Saturday.

The boiler at G. B. Cummings & Sons used for making steam for heating stores, other places of business and residences had to be shut down for repairs Thursday. The steam was turned on again Friday afternoon. In the meantime many of the stores' customers were waited on by people dressed in overcoats and street wraps.

E. C. Tarr of Lynn, former superintendent of the Raddliffe shoe factory, was in Norway, Saturday on business.
Mr. Tarr is member of the firm of Randall, Adams & Co. of Lynn, manufacturers of ladies' shoes. Mr. Tarr has sold his part of the boat to R. R. Taylor who previously owned the boat house with Mr. Tarr. Boston parties are talking of buying Mr. Tarr's cottage on Lake Pennesseewassee.

Never in all Norway's sidewalk history have they been sanded so well or been in such good condition as after the rain and ice storm of last week. For over 20 years we have personally slipped and slid and walked over these same sidewalks in fear and trembling, but for the past week it has been truly pleasure to walk on them. In the business section of Norway. The road commissioner had a good job done.

Wild Ride Down Pike Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shank, who live on Pike Hill, were coming to the village Saturday morning with a pung loaded with various articles when the breeching broke. They were well up on the hill.
The horse ran and threw Mr. Shank out, and as he was driving he took the reins with him. Mrs. Shank stayed in the sleigh and went down the hill, crossed Main street to Whitman, and the horse turned in back of B. J. Bangs' stable.
Here the sleigh tipped up on one side and Mrs. Shank was thrown out. The horse ran a little further, ran into a tree and was thrown down. Mr. Shank hurt his right knee, and got quite a bad cut on the top of his head, though he was able to walk to the village. Mrs. Shank cut her face and nose. The horse was practically uninjured.

A Sleigh Ride Party.

People from Hebron made up a sleigh ride party Thursday evening of last week and visited Norway. The good sleighing, bright moonlight, warm winter weather and jolly company made a fine combination. They had a lunch at nine o'clock at the Beal's Hotel and had such an enjoyable time at that house that they are to get up another sleighing party a little later. The register shows these persons:

H. G. and S. H. Glover.
E. K. Potts.

E. O. Stawood.
F. I. Surtreant.

An Increasing Business.

The sale of The Leavitt Improved Boiler Handle seems to be increasing.
Mr. Leavitt tells us that the sales for 1905 were five hundred and seventy-three gross, enough handles for forty-one thousand two hundred and fifty boilers.
These small industries, while they do not make much show, are of a special advantage to our community. They employment for a few, using largely local productions for raw material, the most of the receipts staying at home.
We wish there were more of them.

At the meeting of the Maine opticians, V. W. Hills, of Norway, was chosen one of the directors.

Preselle, the hypnotist, well remembered in Norway, is in Maine again, and his entertainments are having "standing room only."

of his hands a very little but his tongue he uses quite freely. He said since he left Hiram about three years ago he had earned money enough to purchase the whole town. He and his charge were Levi Jewett's boy it was found and restored to the owner, and he was rewarded for his honesty and kindness.

Mr. Cole, whose horse was taken from his stable two weeks ago, found him once he had been worked up to a short time before turning him on the river as the collar and saddle marks were plainly seen. He was found by Mr. Flye about three-quarters of a mile above Hiram

He was looking fine and wasn't hungry.

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 24, 1829, coming from a good old Quaker family.
For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert

Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham

and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and their uses. She maintained that just as nature supplies food for the body, so she should bountifully provide in the harvest fields and orchards vegetable food of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find out the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies exactly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured it and became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price, as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles.
Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until today Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but still she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study, and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equalled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter, Mrs. Mary W. O. Webb, the present Mrs.
Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With women assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs.
Pinkham continues this great work and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health," freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

THE WISE BUY

When Men Want To Sell

I have just found that there is such a thing as too many goods, stock taking is to blame, I want to sell all of them. The more I can dispose of the better for the buyer.

I have not got everything in the Hardware line but can get it. I have a good stock and want it to move. Come and help me, and help yourself more.

I have on hand—well, everybody knows what ought to be in a General Hardware Store, besides lots of other things.

OXFORD, ss: To the Honorable Justice of our Supreme Judicial Court, next to be held at Paris with in and for the County of Oxford, on the second Tuesday of March, A. D. 1906:

Respectfully represent William O. Linnell, of Norway in said County and State, that he was lawfully married to Pearl E. Linnell, now of parts unknown, at Bath, in said State, on the second day of March, A. D. 1901, by the Rev. George H. D. 1905; that said Linnell has since been a faithless, chaste and affectionate husband, but that the said Pearl E. Linnell, regardless of her marriage covenant and duty, and without fault on the part of said Linnell, in the month of February, A. D. 1906, and on divers other days and times since said intermarriage did commit adultery with one Charles Stevens, alias Charles Roberts, with whom she fled to parts unknown, in violation of said marriage covenant and duty, and said Linnell further avers that there is no collusion between him and said Linnell for obtaining a divorce; and your Honorable Court further avers that the residence of the Linnells is not known to him and cannot be obtained by reasonable diligence.

Wherefore he prays right and justice and that he may be divorced from the bonds of matrimony existing between himself and the said Pearl E. Linnell.

A Homesick Boy.

I'm visitin' at Aunt Maria's, And I'm homesick as I can be; It's sawdust and shavin's for breakfast, And shavin's and sawdust for tea; She says it ain't sawdust nor shavin's, But some kind o' nut-riment food; Anyway, 'tain't pie nor doughnuts, Nor fritters, nor anything good; She never has jam or cookies, She says they are awful for me; We eat 'em like sixty to our house, And we're all of us healthier'n she. She won't let me have any sugar, Because it will give me the gout; The meat I can't swallow a mite of, 'Till I've cleaned it an hour about. Didn't know that I had any liver, 'Cause, you see, I was never sick much; But I'm hungry for all I can think of, 'Till I get sawdust and shavin's and such. Oh I want to see Ma and Louisa, And grandma and my old ball; But I guess I'm homesick for doughnuts, Than anything else as all.

White Perch.

There has been a good deal of discussion in the newspapers within the last few years about the desirability of putting white perch into ponds and lakes now frequented by trout and land-locked salmon. Sportsmen who are familiar with the fish have in general advocated introduction of white perch into all waters.

The towns of Winthrop and Moomouth contain some of the best lakes for trout and salmon in the State of Maine, and they are resorted to by people not only throughout Kennebec county and other sections of Maine but from various sections of the country.

White perch were introduced into the waters in Winthrop over one hundred years ago and these ponds, and lakes have at the same time been inhabited by trout and land-locked salmon, and the three varieties have always thrived together.

The open season for white perch is in July and August, really the season when trout and salmon ought not be caught. They spawn in the spring and never interfere with the spawning beds of the trout and salmon, and are reckoned as one of the best pan fish that swim the waters of Maine.

Hob. George D. Bisbee soon after he moved to Rumford Falls caused white perch to be introduced into Roxbury pond, and for the past two or three years they have been found in large numbers in this pond. While they take bait actively they also rise to a fly. When they take bait they do so in large numbers. Ladies and children take great delight in perch fishing. They also are caught trolling, in the same manner that salmon and trout are.

Col. E. C. Farrington of Augusta, who is Secretary of the Maine State Fishing Association and the authority in Maine on all kinds of fresh water fish, at the recent meeting in Bangor in making his report as secretary and in speaking about trout, salmon and white perch said in part as follows:

"The trout and salmon and there are many local restrictions on taking all kinds of fish. Over quite a large section of the State, open season for trout and salmon ends the fifteenth of September. If the propagation of these fish from spawning beds of the trout and salmon is just. If we can spare such fish and continue the open season as now by general law, until October, it would no doubt be appreciated by those who like to remain in the last half of September in the State, and then enter upon the hunting season. To my mind it all depends as to whether we can afford to spare the large fish taken during the last two weeks in September. I am rather inclined to think that we are holding out on the fish and that the fishing in all our waters, and may safely let the law remain as it is, in this respect."

"But I want to urge the planting of another fish, the white perch in all the waters where trout and salmon exist. I believe this to be a very important matter. The white perch is one of the best if not the very best food fish we have today in any of our ponds or lakes. This fish has been largely forgotten, except in sections where it is abundant, and all efforts have been indulged in to push to the fore trout and salmon. The white perch has no superior as a food fish, and as for gamey qualities it is as good as the trout. During the summer or hot months the fish is hard and sweet, a luxury for chowders or as a pan fish. They thrive well where trout or salmon are and do not interfere with the existence of those fish."

"When trout and salmon take to the deep water in the hot months these fish may be found by the fisherman and give good sport and good eating. The conditions of fishing have greatly changed these later years and now it is not only the fisherman that spends his time fishing and boating, but the fisherman and the boys and girls have come to the front and may be seen with rod and line enjoying these sports and getting strength and health from this out-of-door recreation. The propagation of the white perch is easily done by transplanting them from one water to another. A few hundred, or even less numbers placed in a pond or lake, will multiply rapidly in a few years there will be an abundance of them. It will take but little effort or money to do this work and I commend it to those who live about where the perch does not exist, and the commissioners the distribution of this fine fish."

"Before closing this report I desire to urge that some resolve be passed instructing the committee on legislation to take the questions which have come under discussion, and all matters pertaining to our fish and game into consideration, and report to our next annual meeting their recommendations."

Wallace P. McDonald of Rumford Falls has been issued a certificate as a registered druggist.

In the New England Magazine for January the most original thing is Poor Richard's Sayings by Ben Franklin with illustrations just as they appeared in the original Poor Richard's Almanac. Poor Richard's sayings are the most needed regeneration of rural New England should read the New England Magazine for January. It contains four vigorous and pithy articles bearing on various sides of the matter.

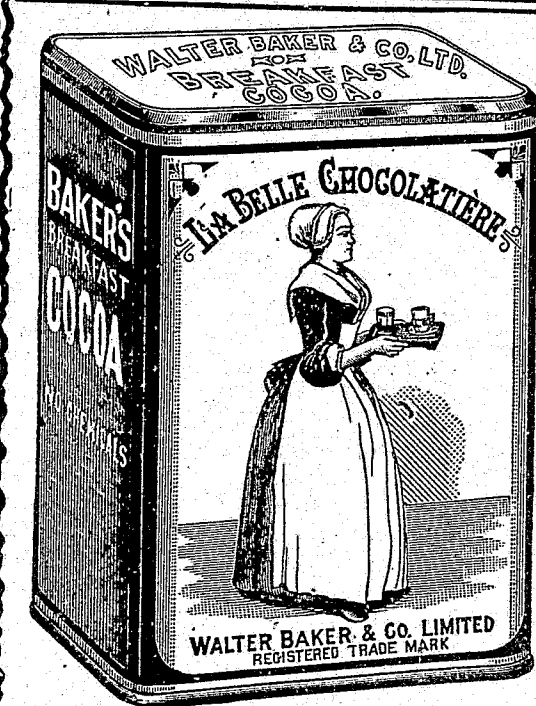

Among the reports which have been filed with the Governor and Council is that of Waldo Pettigill of Rumford Falls, Norman L. Basset of Augusta and Alfred H. Lang of Skowhegan, members of the enforcement commission. The report shows that the total expense of the commission to the first of the year was $10,924.72. The amount received in fines and fees of officers is $1,038.80, making the cost to the State for the nine months that the commission has been in existence the sum of $9,885.92. The appropriation was $7,500 per annum.

HILLS

PRACTICAL GRADUATE OPTICIAN.
The only optician in this county who has ever personally attended an Optical School and has diploma for same.

Hills is recommended by nearly every first-class Physician in Oxford County, what more do you want?

If your eyes need treatment go to your regular Physician, IT'S SAFER than fooling with Quack Doctors and Fake Opticians.

NORWAY ADVERTISER, 1895, 11 years ago, says:—"Vivian W. Hills, our leading optician has been in Portland the greater part of the past few weeks, taking a post-graduate optician examination, under the charge of a celebrated New York oculist. This examination, and practice at the eye and ear infirmary must necessarily be a benefit to Mr. Hills in his examination of the eye. Mr. Hills took his first course ten years ago in Chicago and ever since has been in advance of all others. He also was the first in Oxford County to make a specialty of fitting the eye for all errors."

Hills' prices are the lowest. Why pay $5.00, $4.00 or $3.50 when you can get the very same at Hills for $2.50. Why pay $2.50, $2.00, when you can get the same at Hills for $1.00?

Don't understand us saying we are the only one who can fit you—some "traveling men," "spectacle dealers," "would be opticians" and "quack doctors" will fit you so you can see, but you will pay double the price that HILLS would ask you for the same. How do you know but a pair fitted by HILLS would be less strain on the eye? Try it, for why take chances? Don't fool with your eyes.

BROWNFIELD.

Grandson of Sailing Master of Constitution, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Haraden Babson, of Rockport, Mass., are spending the winter with Rev. Dr. James J. G. Tarr, at Brownfield. Mr. Babson is a grandson of Nathaniel Haraden, who was sailing master of the Frigate Constitution.

Mr. Haraden married one of the followers of Lafayette, when he came over from France to help fight our battles. After retiring from the Constitution, he left the sea and was given a government position at Washington D. C.

His daughter Mary was born on board the Constitution. After her mother's death she came to Annisquam, with her grandparents, taught school, and married Gorham Babson, of Pigeon Cove, Mass. Her remains lie in the cemetery at Folly Cove. On her tombstone is inscribed, "Mary D., wife of Gorham Babson, died Nov. 21, 1883, age 76. She was the daughter of Nathaniel Haraden, Sailing Master of the U. S. Frigate Constitution."

At one time the vessel sailed from Boston, much against his will and encountered a terrible snow storm off Thatcher's island and he was obliged to use force in order to have the men furl the sails and perform their duties. By his prompt action the old frigate was saved and she safely weathered the storm.

Mrs. Babson is the great granddaughter of Daniel Barber Tarr, who was authorized by John Hancock, Governor of Massachusetts, to organize the first militia in Essex Co., in which he served eight years. He drilled his company in his house on South street, and was killed by the British in the Battle of the Clouds.

Mrs. Lydia LeGallier, daughter of Governor Hancock, is cherished souvenirs in Memorial hall, Rockport, Mass. Mrs. Babson is also a member of Post 106, O. W. Wallace, Woman's Relief Corps.

Mrs. Susie Leavitt Warren.

The funeral of Mrs. Susie Leavitt Warren, who died at her home in Conway Center, N. H., Jan. 17, was held at the Universalist church here, Saturday afternoon. Rev. H. N. Hoyt, pastor of the church, spoke comforting words to the bereaved family. Mrs. Sylvia Gilpatrick was soloist and sang "The Beautiful Gates Ajar" and "Sometime We'll Understand," the favorite hymns which were selected just before her death by the deceased. The pall bearers were Irvin Linscott, Andrew Blake, Erwin Miles and Jesse Rowe, all former schoolmates. Mrs. Warren loved flowers, and there were an abundance of them arranged in their sweet, silent love around the still form, several set pieces from relatives and societies, and bouquets being taken the esteem and love in which the deceased was held. Interment was in the Brownfield cemetery.

Mrs. Warren gave birth to a daughter, who died the next day. Mrs. Warren sustained a dreadful nervous shock which finally developed into pneumonia, and despite every effort of kind loving hearts, she passed away. Mrs. Warren was born March, 1830, in Naples. She afterwards lived with her parents in Brownfield, where her mother and sister resided. Since her marriage she has lived in Norway and Center Conway. She was of a loving, cheerful disposition, and had many friends.

WATERFORD.

Three Churches to Unite.

A movement is being made toward effecting a union of the Congregational and Flat churches, and engaging one pastor over them, thus preaching at the Flat one hour in the day and at South Waterford at another. The combining of all three societies is deemed the proper thing to do, and it is hoped this design may be carried out in the near future.

A very good number attended the Masonic installation.

Quite a number of Grangers from here went to the Grange installation, at Harrison.

Rev. G. P. Parsons will preach at the Grange hall on the evening of Jan. 21. Services open at 7:30.

For the purpose of informing members of the L. and S. society who were not present at the last meeting we would say it being the night of completion of Ex. committee, Mrs. Jennie Kimball was re-elected chairman, with R. Plummer and Harold Kimball; assistant committee were chose viz: Mrs. Laura Shaw, Mrs. W. K. Hamlin and Mrs. M. Patrick. It is hoped that the club will soon be able to give a public entertainment. It was decided to hold the next regular meeting in four weeks from date of last meeting because of the many events about to take place for the next two weeks.

HARRISON.

Harrison Centennial History.

It may not be generally known that a history of the Harrison Centennial is being prepared, to which is to be added such matter concerning the past history of the town as the editors are able to procure. Historical matter in regard to the town, especially in regard to the early history, is very difficult to procure and if any one can furnish anything whatever in this line the editors will be very thankful for it. Don't bother about its being grammatical, but send it along in such form as is convenient and it will be put into shape. Address either Howard L. Sampson or Alphonso Moulton, Harrison.

James Pledge will pay 5c live weight for fat pigs or 7c dressed. 3-4

Mrs. Moulton has never visited Harrison but is highly recommended by all who have heard her, and all may rest assured that they will have a first class entertainment.

The newly elected officers of Lakeside Grange were duly installed by Brother Harry L. Lowell of Saco, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Jilison, in the presence of a large audience. The installation was strictly private but visitors were present from Crooked River and Bear Mountain Granges. The installation services were made very impressive by Bro. Lowell and his assistants, who are not easily surpassed in this work. After the conclusion of the ceremony a treat was provided by the Sisters, following which came literary exercises. This Grange has added 15 new members since the hall was dedicated on Dec. 2d, and first and second degrees are to be conferred on two more candidates at the next meeting.

FEED NUTRIOTONE TO YOUR HORSES AND CATTLE

I have just received a large shipment of Nutriotone direct from the factory. One of the best recommendations for Nutriotone is the fact that a great many of the stock raisers that used Nutriotone last season have bought it in larger quantities this year. Try a 25 lb. pail.
